

"In our society the predominant philosophy of "personal autonomy" is epidemic. The attitude that no one has the right to tell me what to do, or hold me to any standard other than what I choose, is rampant. Unfortunately, in our society of "no moral absolutes" personal autonomy also means anarchy and lawlessness."

- Lonnie Berger from "Every Man a Warrior"